ANDREW SHARPE (Executive Director)

Dear IARIW Member,

This email is to update the membership on upcoming IARIW activities

IARIW-ESCoE Conference on Intangible Capital

The IARIW and the Economic Statistics Centre of Excellence (ESCoE) have organized an in-person conference entitled “Measuring Intangible Assets and their Contribution to Growth” to take place in London, England November 11-12, 2021. A total of 23 papers will be presented. These papers represent the latest international research in the important emerging area of intangible capital, including definitional and measurement issues and effects of intangible capital on economic growth. The final conference program, which contains links to all papers can be found at <https://iariw.org/program-iariw-escoe-2021/>. The conference program also features two keynote speakers, Dan Sichel from Wellesley College and Jonathan Haskel from Imperial College and the Bank of England. Both individuals are pioneers in the area of intangible capital measurement.

IARIW members can livestream the two keynote addresses, the plenary sessions, and the closing panel. Details are available at <https://iariw.org/iariw-escoe-conference-registration-for-sessions/>.

37th IARIW General Conference

The 37th IARIW General Conference is planned as an in-person event to take place in Luxembourg Augusts 22-26, 2022. The local organizer is the national statistical office of Luxembourg, STATEC. The call for paper was released in September and is available at <https://iariw.org/wp-content/uploads/2021/09/Sessions2022Luxembourg.pdf>. The deadline for submissions of proposals for papers is January 15, 2022.

IARIW-TNBS Conference on Income, Wealth and Well-being in Africa

The IARIW and the Tanzania National Bureau of Statistics are organizing an in-person special conference entitled “Measuring Income, Wealth and Well-being in Africa” to take place April 14-16, 2022 in Arusha, Tanzania. The conference had originally been scheduled for this October but was postponed because of the pandemic. The program for the conference is available at <https://iariw.org/iariw-tnbs-conference-program/>.

Special Conference on Central Banks, Financial Markets and Inequality.

The IARIW and the Bank of Italy are planning a special conference in the spring of 2023 in Italy on the topic of central banks, financial markets and inequality. The call for paper will be distributed to IARIW members later this fall, with a deadline for receipt of proposals in mid-2022.

Open Access to Review of Income and Wealth

In addition to access through the Wiley website, the Association maintains an open-access website where the full archive of the journal, with a three-year lag from the current year, can be accessed by members and the general public at www.roiw.org. Articles for 2018 have recently been added to this archive.

Announcement of Interest to the Membership

The editors of Research on Economic Inequality invite scholars to submit manuscripts to Volume 30 of the series. The editors have a special interest in top incomes, intergenerational transmission of inequality, globalization and inequality, gender and inequality, and education and inequality. Papers on other topics of interest (both theoretical and applied) will also be considered. The deadline for submission is November 15, 2021. The call for papers is available at <https://iariw.org/wp-content/uploads/2021/10/Call-for-papers-REI-Volume-30.pdf>.

Please contact me if you have questions or comments related to any aspect of the Association's activities.

Best Regards,
